BAISD Career Center students participate in one of five career-oriented student club organizations including: Business Professionals of America (BPA); DECA, an association of marketing students; FFA, a premier leadership association; HOSA, an association of health and science students; National Technical Honor Society; and SkillsUSA.

These are just some of the benefits students experience through student clubs:

- Enhancing technical skills
- Developing character
- Competing for scholarships
- Networking with employers
- Competing for awards & prizes
- Earning travel opportunities
- Developing citizenship and more

Last year over 900 BAISD Career Center students participated in student club activities and earned thousands of dollars in scholarships and career-related prizes.
